Section 1: Committee Updates

This section is filled out by the chief officer from each of the Alliance LARP committees.

Rules

The Rules committee's big project at the moment is reviewing and approving rituals submitted by Design, the creation of additional rituals, and continued brainstorming on new Superior Equipment.

Technical

The Tech team has made several updates to the 2.0 and 2.1-beta CMAs, including:

- Added the ability to gift Dragon Blankets for other player's characters.
- Improved the UX around granting NPC Blankets.
- Added auto-deduction of Magic Item duration (still in testing).

The Technical committee is recruiting, and is shifting their recruitment focus: the team is now looking for JavaScript/React developers, as they intend to move away from Ruby/Rails. If you have experience and want to get involved, email Albert at dragonstamps@alliancelarp.com.

Diversity

The Diversity team is continuing to work on reworking the Alliance Racial packets.

Publicity

Susie G. from the Publicity committee has started up Healthier Heroes, a LARP fitness blog! She's also sharing videos of her fitness drills over on her YouTube channel!

Design

Design continues to develop Rituals to be refined by ARC. The team has been focusing on the Owner feedback/request of item creation/player gear rituals. Rituals/Superior Equipment is an evergreen project (meaning that it is never truly complete). Two new unannounced projects are also currently in development.

Documentation

The Documentation team continues to gather feedback on necessary updates to the Beta playtest packet, including any changes to formatting and font being brought over to the Rulebook as well.
